

In the specification:

On page 5, lines 20-24, amend the paragraph to read as follows:

Another output contact may be an output contact for an indicator that is external to the housing. Such an output contact may be used to control an indicator such as the ones described in co-pending application U.S. Serial No. 09/275,495, filed on March 24, 1999, entitled BATTERY HAVING A BUILT-IN INDICATOR, now U.S. Pat. No. 6,835,491 issuing on December 28, 2004, naming Vladimir Gartstein and Dragan D. Nebragic, which is incorporated by reference above.
